

A new, cost effective and broader certification and consultancy service for Bodyshops will launch next week from PASPlus, the PAS125 certification service from CWMC.

The service, which has already helped more than 100 garages achieve the PAS125 Thatcham BSi Kitemark, has entered into a new partnership with eAutomotive Ltd, a specialist IT and business efficiency consultancy with over 21 years' experience of the motor trade.

Chris Wylde, managing director of CWMC, says: "There a very few providers who can offer an integrated service to Bodyshops or who have this depth of experience in helping garages achieve the Kitemark. The new partnership will give our clients a broader range of support at an affordable price."

Adam Lane, managing director of eAutomotive, says: "We have created this strategic alliance with PASPlus in order to offer a better deal to Bodyshops. PASPlus has very extensive experience of the certification market now, but clients also need support with IT systems, health and safety and customised help to improve business efficiency. This is the new service that we will offer through eAutomotive and PASPlus."
